

Check out the WAVES project. They set out to combine skill sets of both academic and enterprise partners to make Scenario-based learning (SBL) more accessible for a wide range of professions. They are also in the process of developing a MOOC and invited experts and practitioners from other projects to feedback the design of the course. Chris of BizMOOC was taking part. Check out the project and their MOOC here: <http://wavesnetwork.eu/>