

BizM00C learning design workshop at the Open University UK

The BizM00C teams currently meets at the Open University UK facilities in Cardiff, Wales to design and kick-start the production of its 3 Pilot M00Cs.

We are having an exciting time in identifying the different target audiences, spinning the “word wheel”, creating “personas”, drafting learning outcomes and the course profiles. The M00Cs are going to be implemented towards the end of the year. Besides, we are celebrating the finalization of our first key outcome, the so-called “M00C BOOK”.

Stay tuned for more information which will follow shortly.
