

Drivers behind MOOCs/reasons to get involved

MOOCs are increasingly regarded as a way to gain access to higher education. Do you want to learn in your own time and your own pace? Do you want to have access to learning opportunities online that were beyond reach in the past? MOOCs not only provide access to quality educational materials but also help to learn flexibly. Moreover you can connect with people who share the same interests or professional profiles. These are just some of the reasons to get involved. Read more about drivers behind MOOCs.
